

AUTOMATION ADVISORS

The Intelligent Automation Week Advisory Board members consist of intelligent automation decision makers from some of the most prestigious and innovative organizations. They are carefully selected based upon their IA expertise, job function, and strategic responsibility within their organization – so to ensure the event program covers the topics you "truly" NEED & WANT to know more about.

"IQPC's Intelligent Automation conference in Chicago had something for everyone: those still discovering the possibilities of RPA to seasoned practitioners running hundreds of bots seeking ways to mature their operations. These events provide a great place to learn and connect with others who are in the trenches."
