2021 Operational Medicine Symposium

Defense Strategies Institute's 3rd Operational Medicine Symposium will bring together senior medical officials, clinicians, government leaders, academia, and solution providers to discuss the policies, strategies, and medical advancements required to improve combat medicine and increase warfighter survivability across a full spectrum of operations.

This educational symposium will examine how medical officials actively engage with commercial partners to deliver the most up to date and technologically advanced techniques and equipment to ensure our Warfighters receive the best care possible. Speakers from across the services and Military Health System (MHS) will share perspectives into their critical medical capability and training resource needs as well as their insights into the ways in which emerging technologies and human performance are being leveraged to enhance and support warfighters on the battlefield.

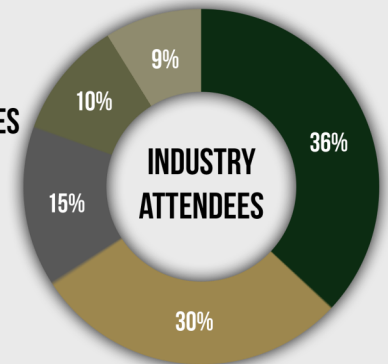

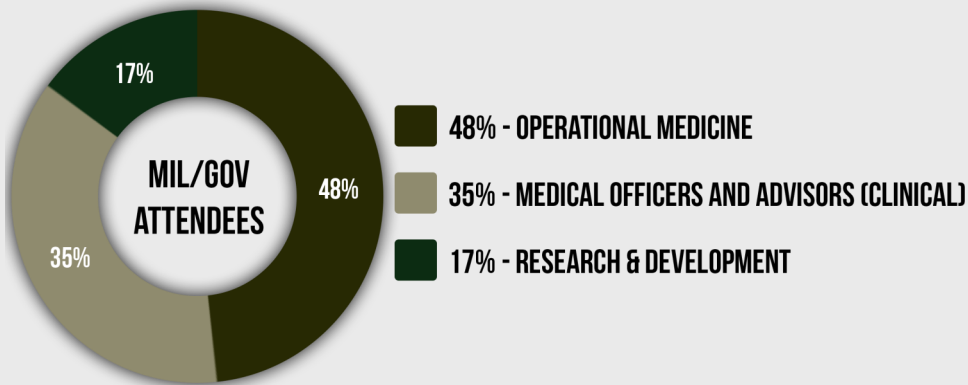

At DSI, we consider our sponsors as our partners. Our goal is to provide you with an experience that is custom designed to meet your organization's goals. To this end, we value your input and expertise and will work closely with you to create a sponsorship campaign that is tailor made for your business needs.
